Recognizing the inspirational and didactic importance of the history of preservation to the continued health, success and growth of historic preservation in New York City, the New York Preservation Archive Project, a not-for-profit organization, was created to document, preserve, and celebrate the rich history of preservation efforts in the city. Through public programs, outreach, celebration, and the creation of public access to information, NYPAP hopes to bring these stories to light and to the public. NYPAP offers public programs, conducts oral histories, secures and protects key archival collections, and works with individuals and organizations to secure the future of their collections. NYPAP is located at 174 East 80th Street in New York City. For more information on upcoming events, please visit our website at www.nypap.org, or call us at 212-861-4993 x. 246.
